

Text transcript of Glucose Animation

A glucose molecule is a six carbon sugar, consisting of a total of 24 atoms.

It is very polar due to its hydroxyl groups to which water molecules can hydrogen bond.

By convention, carbon atoms are shown in gray, oxygen in red and hydrogen in white.